CITO Test

In the first week of February, we had the Cito test (the Dutch exam to go to secondary school). One week in the morning we had to work, work and work.

In the afternoon we had really much fun and we played. We had a lot of fun. But it was really boring.

When we were working, we drank and ate some candy!! We had the subjects math, language and rich earth science. It was sometimes difficult and sometimes easy. And we didn't like the test, because it was a lot of work. When the test was done, we were happy because it was OVER!

Greets,
